

Full Moon in Pisces September 6 brings:

....vivid dreams

....creativity

....romance

....spiritual connection

September is about creating new and clearer intentions and beginnings after a chaotic eclipse cycle. We can get down to the 'business at hand' and start making progress with goals and ambitions that have been put on the back burner. Our lives will reflect those things if we stay with our mission and our purpose for being here on this planet at this time. If we get too lofty in our thoughts and lose a sense of reality then chaos will reign supreme as it has done in the past few months.

Watching for this month's important cosmic events:

...September 5 Mercury turns direct and gets us moving forward. This is helpful for Virgos and Leos who have had a chaotic time of it.

...September 6 Full Moon in Pisces

...September 13 Saturn turns direct in Sagittarius

...September 20 New Moon in Virgo

...September 28 Pluto turns direct in Capricorn

Aries is worn out from so many changes and upsets, so relaxing into a more stable routine and taking some deep breaths are ways that you can calm yourself. There may be some signs along the way that help you with authority issues around your work place. Taking on your own authority would be helpful as you do know what you are doing more than some others who might be in higher positions. Trust that you can move forward with authority and purpose and keep affirming your own individual approach to issues.

Taurus, the world seems to be crumbling around you and it seems that your mind is unsettled about what you want to do, where your passion really lies and the steps you need to take. All this seems to be put on the back burner, but toward the end of the month, you will see that issues have to be addressed and you need to move forward with things you put into place months ago. Procrastination is very akin to addiction as to the way you are living your life. So even if you do not see the overall picture, you are creating a collage of situations that somehow have to fit together. Good luck with this!

Geminis are struggling with partnerships, the significant other, and issues that regard communication. There are some areas of communication that seem to be more troublesome than most. These are around honesty and stating your feelings as they really are. You find yourself fluctuating day to day and blending with the chaotic concerns of others in your path. It is time for you to take an accounting of what you really want and how that is going to happen. You need to pay attention to 'specifics' and quit generalizing as you are confusing those around you who love you most.

Cancer feels an urgency and something coming up from the unconscious that seems to be skewing goals and ambitions. Please dear Cancers, do not blame this on a partner or your sense of abandonment because people are not clinging to you or are feeling that they can be independent without your help. You need to create independence and responsibility in your family and work environment and pay more attention to what you, as an individual, needs most. It would be a good time to get away and relax with loved ones, allowing them to take care of you and your needs for a change!

Leos just went through a turbulent month of ups and downs. Coming up with a plan around your health and welfare will be first and foremost your agenda for the following months ahead. Changing some habits that need to change due to health concerns and ways of coping with the energies surrounding you are going to demand some self-discipline in ways that you keep on the path you want to stay on. Leos tend to be lazy about moving toward good health and prosperity, so those two things suffer most when Leo goes too slowly to make changes! C'mon Leos let's get on the move!!

Virgo will have some changes in their homelife or at least issues that come up in the home. Now is the time to move forward with any changes that need to take place, fixing the things that are broken, paying close attention to hazardous material in the home. Taking care of the stress levels is always a must for Virgos and learning how you dodge the 'bullets' that get you in trouble, usually by your own making and design. i strongly advise you to stay with a health regimen that you can live with and one that builds your immune system so that you are not vulnerable to infections in your area.

Libra needs to take care of their communications especially making up for all the mistaken understandings during the month of August. Taking care to really listen to both sides of a situation helps you make more 'just' decisions and you benefit from being one who can be a 'peace maker' even in a state of chaos. You have a remarkable mind and can wrap your head around both sides of any situation, remaining objective in a puzzling world. You will find that your health needs some tweaking during this month and it will be easy for you as long as you stay on a diet that suits your lifestyle.

Scorpios is still looking at Saturn in the solar 2nd house of money and values and trying to decide what to do in order to manifest the 'reality of their situations' as all things seem chaotic and out of sorts right now. This is the month to make those permanent decisions about where to invest time and money because worrying about it gets you nowhere! This is also a time to keep yourself healthy and away from stress. Find friends and family that you enjoy being with and enjoy this month of playful opportunities. You are fun to be with when you are not worrying yourself and others with unneeded fixations!

Sagittarius is working on needless worry as well as the Scorpios only in a different way. Watching boundaries and needless conversation that intrudes on other's decisions helps clarify your own situation. You can only clarify for yourself what the next month or two brings and this will help you make better plans for the new year ahead. It will also help you see more clearly the areas of life that take their toll on your health, welfare and happiness. Reflection and contemplation are the names of the 'game' this month and serious planning for the inner world you are creating.

Capricorns are awakening to whole new worlds around them lately and find that they have ignored some of their own symptoms that may have lead to illnesses and just being 'worn out'. Those symptoms are also signs of you not being able to control your world, but instead having to deal with it day to day and let others 'do what they will', not what 'you will them to do.'* Take some time to reflect and start counting your blessings rather than trying to control those blessings as if you were the great 'planner'. This is a time to relax and let some things go that are beyond your control. Start working on only the physical and emotional situations in your path and pay attention to the higher Self.

Aquarius is feeling the urge to move forward and to get on with life, but also feeling the urge to sit back and isolate oneself. It is a double edged sword and one which takes a great deal of balance to contend with, especially on a daily basis. Don't let yourself get into any ruts of behavior, but instead see how important your individual freedom and uniqueness fit into the daily activities. You can often get quite radical with your thinking because you tend to be very mental. This calls for some long meditations of 'no thought' and daily mantras that raise your vibrations.

Pisces will opt for meditation and prayer this month as situations are beyond your control in the career sector. Things will work out in your favor but not because of anything you do or don't do. You have invested too many emotions into what is occurring around you to the point of distraction and mental unease. Please learn to trust your dream, your boundaries, your spiritual essence to see you through all of this and find those around you who are of the same mind and guidance. You need to regroup and decide the types of people with whom you want to hang out. Do not diminish your wealth of spiritual value as you have great reserves in that department!
